Corn Canneries. The canners in Verxout are happy, especially in the sweet corn industry. The warm weather for the past month has made this productive crop in this state grow with leaps and bounds. This fall crop means much to Waterbury and vicinity. The time is not far distant when every community will have a cannery of some description. We welcome the time.—Waterbury Record.

FOREST RANGER PHONES HAVE "COOTIES" TOO.

The Ohmlette is the "cootie" of the forest ranger's life. He does not get on the ranger, but he gets in his telephone, which is much worse when you are trying to telephone for help on a forest fire. The Ohmlette just delights in getting into the transmitter and attempting to call up some of his forest friends. A buzzing starts, says the American Forestry association of Washington, D. C., that just about puts the line out of business. The ranger could take a shot at the transmitter, but that of course would "get" the phone as well as the Ohmlette so the ranger uses a piece of a moth ball and that settles it for Mr. Ohmlette.

Unstoppable Duds. "Do you know how to make a pan dowsy?" asked her husband. It was too good an opportunity to let go by.

"Certainly," she replied. "All I have to do is to dress the pan in the kind of clothes you make me wear."—Boston Transcript.

EAST MONTPELIER

Mrs. S. H. Lyford was in Montpelier on business Friday.

Oscar Emery, who has been enjoying a short vacation, has returned to his work for Bailey Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Dudley and Claire Dudley went to Derry, N. H., Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. A. L. Dudley.

The many friends of Annie Blair Dudley regret to hear of her death at her home in Derry, N. H. For many years she lived in East Montpelier, where she endeared herself to a large circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dudley were members of the Universalist church and much interested in all pertaining to the welfare of that church. They were also prominent in the social orders, especially the grange, where Mrs. Dudley so ably served as chaplain for a long time. She was known everywhere as a charming Christian woman, who lived every day the religion she professed and so dearly loved. Her last illness of several months was borne with a brave cheerfulness, which betokened her worth. She leaves her husband, A. L. Dudley, one sister, Miss Janet Blair, and a brother, Andrew of South Boston, besides a large circle of relatives and friends, who will sorely miss her kindly presence in all their walks of life.

Eugene Spolyd, who went to Montreal to join the harvesters' excursion to the Northwest, was taken ill in that city and has returned to East Montpelier.

Sadie Curtis of Montpelier is spending a 10-day vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Curtis, of this place.

Irene Mays is taking a short vacation at home.

Eva Long has returned from a visit to her mother in Roxbury.

Merle Warren, clerk at C. F. Dudley's store, is spending a few days at his home in Whitehall.

Irene Mayo underwent a surgical operation on her foot Monday of this week. Several poultry keepers in this vicinity have been harassed by the frequent visits to their henyards of a large hawk. S. H. Lyford succeeded in getting a shot at the fellow Sunday morning and now the chickens and their owners live in apparent safety.

Unstoppable Duds. "Do you know how to make a pan dowsy?" asked her husband. It was too good an opportunity to let go by.

"Certainly," she replied. "All I have to do is to dress the pan in the kind of clothes you make me wear."—Boston Transcript.
